City Commission Votes New Well

Action Taken To Up Arson Reward

BY JIM THOMAS

Canyon City Commission Monday night authorized the Joe Currie Drilling Company of Canyon to drill a water well at city expense on the Forrester Estate west of Canyon. Cost of the well is not to exceed $650, the commission stipulated. Commissioners also took action on several other proposals in a lengthy session.

The city, in its contract with the Forrester Estate for water rights, is obligated to either solve any problems that should develop with the four existing Forrester wells in the area or to provide free water from the city wells. One of the four windmills in the area recently quit producing, according to Bill York, city manager.

Jess Rhodes, C.P.A. for the city, presented his audit for the city books for the year between April 1, 1962 and March 31, 1963. The commission accepted the audit as presented. York said copies of the audit would be available at city hall for those interested.

Rhodes said the city could save money and have a more efficient bookkeeping system by changing the present accounting system over to a card system of customer accounts. Rhodes said the present city accounting machinery could be converted to handle the more efficient system without too much cost or trouble.

Rhodes bill to the city for the audit was $1,175.00.

The commission also discussed a proposed ordinance requiring off-street parking at all new apartments with at least one parking space provided for each apartment unit.

The commission considered annexation of a piece of West Texas State University property east of the city limits on 28th Street and north of 4th Avenue. The annexation would include a parcel of private land in the north east corner of the present city limits on which Charley Walker of Amarillo is building a large apartment house.

The annexation consideration was taken after York told the commission that the apartment house in the northeast corner of the city is one third in the city limis and two thirds outside.

York said it would be difficult, if not illegal to equally tax the apartment building since it is not entirely within the city limits.

It was first suggested that the city annex just the apartment property, but the commission felt it would be better to annex the entire area. No action was taken.

The commission also discussed improving the city water service east of the university.

In other action, the commission authorized the city manger to send form letter to delinquent taxpayers as the first step in collection of overdue taxes.

The commission indicated that the city attorney should take legal action for the collection of the taxes if the form letter should prove unsuccessful.

The commission discussed a proposal with Virgil Henson, business manager at West Texas State University, that the city service a Dempster-Dumpster type trash container at the university cafeteria, with the university furnishing the container and maintaining it.

York told the commission that the university liked the Dempster-Dumpster trash collection system the city had recently

Court Asks Action On Overdue Taxes

Randall County Commissioners Court moved Monday to ask the district attorney to take legal action against real and personal property owners with delinquent county taxes. The district attorney said he would take the legal action as soon as he got a list of the tax delinquents.

James Rittenberry, an Amarillo architect, told the commissioners that it would be difficult to make an intelligent decision of a proposed courthouse elevator without a study of the building, its uses and probable future needs.

The commissioners asked Rittenberry to estimate the elevator's cost.

"I imagine you're probably talking about $25,000 to $30,000," he said.

Rittenberry was one of three Amarillo architects invited by the court to discuss the proposed elevator in the courthouse.

The commission took no action on the proposal.

In other action, the commissioner moved to readvertise for a motor road grader for Precinct #3.

VandalsHit Weaver's

A person or persons unknown broke in three rear windows in Weaver's Dine-A-Teria early Wednesday morning. A total of 23 of the 24 panes was smashed.

Investigating sheriff's deputies found nearby a short length of two by four beam that had evidently been used in the glass breaking. Cuts and scratches from the broken glass were on

ManDrowns At Buffalo

Discovery of an underwater fishing line may have cost the life of Johnathon Kelly Rhodes, 58, a carpet cleaner from Amarillo, who drowned Sunday morning at Buffalo Lake.

Rhodes and Mr. and Mrs. W.S. Harris of Amarillo had come to the lake late Saturday night to camp and fish. Harris is a coworker with Rhodes at Carpet Master Rug Cleaning Company of Amarillo. The cleaning company is owned by Rhodes' brother, Bill.

Rhodes was swimming in chest-deep water about an eighth of a mile south of the concessions area on the west side of the lake, when he discovered an underwater fishing line, according to Bill Wilson, Randall County justice of the peace. Mr. and Mrs. Harris had finished swimming and were on the lake shore watching Rhodes, Wilson said.

Rhodes picked up one end of the fishing line and then dove underwater, saying he was going after the other end, Wilson said.

When Rhodes at first failed to come up, Harris thought Rhodes was playing a joke, but soon became worried, yelled for help and dove into the water to try to find Rhodes.

George Richarte of Lubbock, who was fishing nearby, jumped in to help find Rhodes.

Richarte found the body in chest-deep water and with Harris' help, pulled Rhodes to the bank where they applied artificial respiration. The Randall County Emergency Corps,

Drum Major Try Outs

Try-outs for drum major and majorettes for the Canyon High School Band will be held Friday at 1 p.m.

The try-outs will be staged at the rear of the Fine Arts Building on the campus of West Texas State University.

All high school students who are interested in the program should attend, according to Lee Boyd Montgomery, director.

Charolette and Judy Clark, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Clark of Canyon, placed in the annual Rickshaw Water Ski Tournament held last week end at Buffalo Lake. Charolette, on the left, placed second in tricks in the girls' division; 3rd in slalom in the girls' division; and 2nd over all in the girls' division. Judy placed 2nd in slalom in girls' division; 3rd in tricks in the girls' division and 3rd in girls' overall.

FoodShower Honors Stipe Family As Cynthia Returns To Hospital

The Jim Stipe family received a "food shower" from friends and neighbors last Friday and Saturday. Gifts of canned food, frozen meat and vegetables and fresh garden vegetables were contributed to the family.

Financial troubles beset the Stipe family in February when their daughter, Cynthia, became a cancer victim. Cynthia, 8, first became ill in early February and underwent surgery at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo later that month. Doctors found a malignant tumor on the right lung and removed the lung.

Cynthia returned to St. Anthony's Hospital about three weeks ago with a suspected tumor affecting the left lung. The little miss is in room 239. Her mother remains at the hospital constantly, and her father visits as often as possible.

Her father is employed as a parttime caretaker at West Texas State University. Mrs. Stipe is the former Mary Sue Rice of Canyon. The couple has three other daughters.

Mrs. Travis McBride, second grade teacher at Canyon Elementary School, was instrumental in the food shower for her former student. The shower Friday was given by mothers of the classmates of Cynthia. Members of the VFW Auxiliary presented the family with food contributions on Saturday.

Midge Threatens Randall Sorghum

The next two or three weeks will be critical for Randall County grain sorghum farmers in their fight against the lowly midge, a gnat-like insect which has begun to invade the Panhandle fields in force.

Control and eradication of the sorghum-damaging midge must be timed "almost to perfection" or the treatment will be too late to be effective, according to John Brazzil, Randall County Agent.

"The midge is hard to see, and farmers must take precautions on faith and make plans to act at the right time," Brazzil said.

Insecticide applications, mostly by aerial spraying, is the most important factor in midge control. The three-day period, when the grain sorghum head emerges from the boot, is the critical time, for that is when the midge is attracted to the flower of the head, and lays its eggs, Brazzil said.

"Once the eggs are laid, it is too late to stop the damage. The insecticide must be applied before that time--during the three-day period the head emerges," he said.

A few cases of midge infestation have been found in the southern areas of Randall County, Brazzil said. Clinton Miller of the Happy Flying Service brought in some damaged grain for identification.

Without attention, the midge, long a menace in other parts of the South and in eastern portions of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, and Nebraska, could seriously hamper one of Randall County's greatest sources of farm income.

Brazzil estimates that Randall County now has approximately 60,000 acres of sorghum under irrigation, and another 30,000 to 40,000 acres in dry land cultivation. Income this year from grain sorghum, estimated to be about three million dollars, is expected to be higher than that from wheat in the county.

A few very early fields of sorghum are now approaching the heading stage, Brazzil said, but most of the fields will not be heading out until after Aug. 1.

"I would suggest that farmers with sorghum in irrigated fields with late heading plan to spray during that period the head emerges. In dry land planting, if the prospects look good, probably it would be wise to plan spraying also," Brazzil said.

While the midge is not new to other parts of the country, it is relatively new to the Panhandle and South Plains areas. It has been recognized in the area for four or five years, but research in control of the

Stray Cats Watched At Buffalo Lake

Personnel of the Buffalo Lake Wildlife Refuge and the lake concessions are keeping a "close eye" on all stray cats in the lake area since an Amarillo girl was bitten by a rabid cat at the lake July 14.

Bob Brown, manager of the refuge, said there have been few cats seen around the lake; however, personnel are watching for any of the stray animals. Brown said he believes the cat was bitten by a rabid skunk, and that there probably is no cat infestation at the lake at this time.

A bite by a stray cat at Buffalo Lake July 14 has resulted in 14 anti-rabies injections for Cherie Sylvestor, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald L. Sylvestor of 4317 Omaha, Amarillo.

The child was bitten in the heel while the family was at the lake. Sylvestor noted the cat appeared to be sick, caught

Canyon Getting Set For Randall Round Up, Reunion

Bunting will begin flying Friday, as Canyon begins decorating for the annual Randall County Round Up and Old Settlers' Reunion, slated to open here August 1 for a three-day celebration. The city will take on a festive atmosphere for the week prior to opening activities.

"Store fronts will be sporting flags, bunting, and welcome signs Friday and Saturday and all next week for the celebration," says Joe Gidden, co-chairman with Jerry LaGrone, for the reunion. "Anyone who does not have decorations can get them from Wayne Wirt. The Jaycees will be putting up American flags."

Program of events has been completed, with a rodeo slated each night at 8 at the Sheriff's Posse Arena east of town, and a dance in the National Guard armory to be held following rodeo performances. Other activities include a fiddlers' jamboree and contest on the courthouse square Friday, a pancake supper Friday, a parade and barbecue Saturday. Old settlers will gather Friday for visitaion during the fiddlers' jamboree.

The reunion and jamboree will start at 9:30 a.m. Friday on the courthouse square, with the official fiddlers' contest to begin at 2 p.m. Plaques will be presented to a number of oldtimers, including the oldest settler present, the old settler coming from the greatest distance, and the longest continuous resident of Randall County.

A pancake supper, hosted by the JCs and the Kiwanis Club, is slated from 5 until 7:30 p.m. Friday in the American Legion Hall. Tickets are already on sale by Kiwanis Club members, and cost 75 cents a plate.

Saturday's barbecue will be served after the parade, which starts at 4 p.m., with service continuing until 7:30 p.m. Catering will be Canyon's Buckboard Bar-B-Que. Tickets are $1.50 each and can be bought from any member of the Canyon Rotary Club.

"We only have 1,000 tickets for the barbecue, so I'm sure people will want to get them early before we run out," Gidden said.

The barbecue will be served on the courthouse square.

Kay Jarnagin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Jarnagin, and a student at West Texas State University, will be Queen of the Randall County Sheriff's Posse Rodeo and Parade. She will ride with honors during the parade and at the grand entries for the rodeo each night.

Parade Entries Being Sought

Riding clubs, headed by the Randall County Sheriff's Posse, from throughout the Tri-State area will participate in the Randall County Round Up parade, along with floats and other kinds of entries, such as novelties.

"We invite anyone who wishes to participate in the parade to let us know as soon as possible, so we can find a place for the entry in the parade line-up," says Bill Wilson, chairman of the parade committee.

The parade will begin forming before 4 p.m. on Second Avenue at 22nd Street, according to Dr. Jack Walker. Line of march for the parade will be west on Second Avenue to 15th Street, south around three sides of the square, and then east on Fourth Avenue to the rodeo arena.

Plans Laid For Rodeo

Preparations are underway for the annual rodeo, held in conjunction with the Randall County Round Up and Old Settlers' Reunion, August 1-3.

The three-day rodeo is scheduled Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights at 8 p.m. at the Sheriffs' Posse Arena east of town. Admission will be $1.50 for adults and 75¢ for children, and tickets may be bought from any Sheriff's Posse member or at the gate.

Some of the top cowhands from the Southwest are expected to participate in the show, including such names as Ed Workman of Lubbock and Olton, for many years the top intercollegiate rider.

Events will include saddle bronc riding, bareback bronc riding, bull riding, calf roping, bulldogging, team roping, and girls' barrel racing. A calf scramble will be held each of the nights with first, second and third prizes being awarded each night.

The scramble is an event for children under 12.

Rodeo clown will be Richard Walters, a favorite of Southwest rodeos. Stock is being

Hoskins To Move To Austin Position

Appointment of Jerry Tschauner as new park ranger at Palo Duro Canyon State Park was announced Wednesday by Bill M. Collins, executive director of the State Parks Board.

Tschauner, 27, succeeds W. B. "Buddy" Hoskins who is being transferred to Austin headquarters for temporary duty pending permanent assignment. Hoskins, a ten-year man with state parks service, has been at the panhandle park for 17 months.

Ranger Tschauner (pronounced Shawner) is a graduate of Texas Tech where he received a degree in park management in 1959. For the last three years, he served with the United States Army. After two years with the forces in Germany, he was discharged as a First Lieutenant.

Ranger Tschauner and his wife, Joy, are natives of Odessa where he has been connected with the Ector County Park Department. They have three sons, ages 4, 2 and 1. The family will move into the Palo Duro Canyon Park residence August 1.

Canyon Capers Set Special Reunion Dance

Canyon Capers will be hosts for a special square dance in conjunction with the Old Settlers Reunion.

The dance will be held following the rodeo on Saturday evening, August 3. Billy Foster of Amarillo will serve as the caller. Admission will be charged for the dance. Site of the dance has not yet been determined.

The club banner of the Canyon Capers was taken home by the Hereford Square Dance Club at a dance in Canyon Monday evening. To recature their banner the local club must attend a meeting of the Hereford Club with at least four couples.

Attending the meeting Monday evening were 27 members of the Canyon club and about 20 guests from Amarillo, Hereford and other area towns.

Sherriff's Posse Takes To Trail

A week end trail ride took more than 45 riders of the Randall County Sheriff's Posse into the Palo Duro Canyons Saturday and Sunday, where the posse rode and camped out.

The group rode up the canyons Saturday afternoon before pitching camp for a hamburger supper. After church services early Sunday morning, they rode until noon before adjourning for a steak fry.

About 60 persons spent the night out Saturday, and about 70 were on hand for lunch Sunday.

The department notified the Amarillo Bi-City-County Health Department, who in turn notified the Sylvestor family.

The Sylvestor family doctor started administering the injections, and as of Monday, Cherie had taken 6 injections with 8 more to go. The injections are given daily, according to Mrs. Sylvestor. The child is in no pain and has had no reaction to the shots, Mrs. Sylvestor said.

Dr. Randall of the Amarillo Health Department said there have been three other reported cases of rabid animals in the Potter-Randall County area this year. All three were skunks, he said.

"It was good thinking on the part of Mr. Sylvestor to bring the sick cat in for inspection," Brown said.

McCamey Man Still In Hospital

Billy Weldon Bradford of McCamey, injured Saturday when his pickup truck overturned near Canyon, remained in the hospital in Canyon Wednesday.

Bradford, who suffered a severe head cut, was brought to Neblett Hospital and Clinic after the accident about 10 miles south of Canyon.

A passenger in the truck, James Gibson of Dimmitt, was not injured. The two were towing an automobile behind the pickup. The car began weaving behind the truck and Bradford lost control.

The two were enroute to Midland.

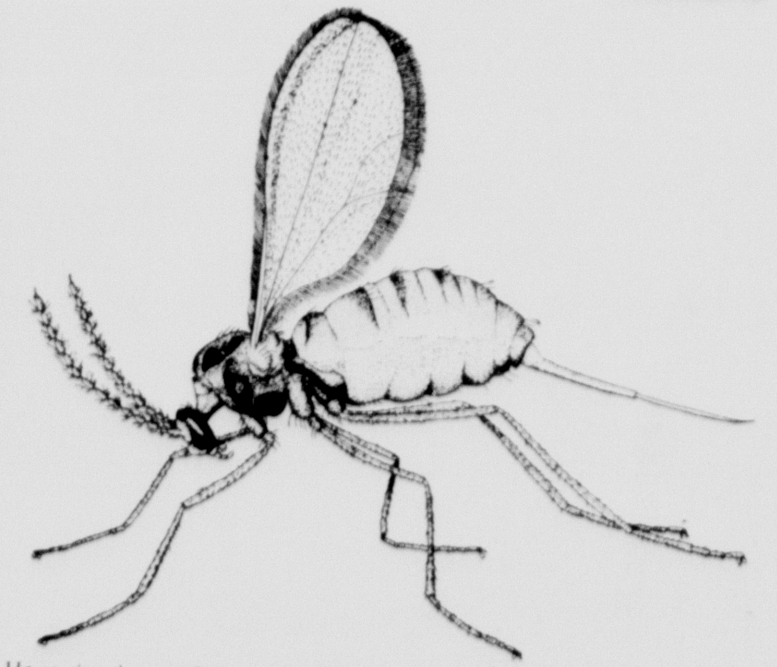
midge for the Panhandle has only recently made it possible to wage an effective fight. Some information has been contributed by the Lubbock Experiment Station to assist in controlling the insect.

"Usually the first host plant for the midge is Johnson grass," Brazzil said. "Several generations of the insect live on these early maturing plants, and are later attracted to the sorghum head when it emerges."

Chemicals, such as those recommended for use in control of the midge, have been cleared by the Food and Drug Administration, but Brazzil cautions that they must be used exactly as recommended in all measures.

The adult midge, which must be destroyed before it lays eggs, is a minute orange-colored fly. Females, shortly after mating, fly to the nearest suitable sorghum heads and lay their eggs. Larva emerges in about two days, and the maggots feed on the developing grain for about 9 to 11 days, when the maggots change into dark orange pupae, from which a new generation of adults emerges in about three days.

Information and assistance in the control of the midge can be obtained through the County Agent, and the Grain Sorghum Producers Association in Amarillo.



Here is the midge, a minute insect which is a threat to the grain sorghum crops of Randall County. Some damage by the midge has been reported in the Happy area.

put into service and would like to utilize the system at the school cafeteria. York said the university, however, did not feel justified in purchasing a truck and hoist to service the single container they would have at the cafeteria. The commission decided to discuss the proposal further at another meeting.

The commissioners authorized the Texas Bank and Trust Company of Dallas to invest the city's 1957 revenue bonds, reserve fund, at a 4 percent interest rate.

The court authorized payment of $17,713 to the Sid Patterson Company of Norman, Oklahoma, for the used Dempster-Dumpster system Patterson delivered to the city last month.

The new system has enabled the city to improve its trash collection in the downtown business area and to increase residential trash collection to twice weekly, York said.

York told the commission that the city should look forward to purchasing in September at least six more Dempster-Dumpster trash containers to keep the collection system up with the growing needs of the city. The commission authorized York to investigate the purchase of six more containers.

The court authorized payment to the contractor for the city share in street improvements and engineering in the Ponderosa Addition. The city also extended the city Fire Zone #2 to include the west part of the addition.

The city engineer was authorized to draw up specifications for paving and curbing of 13th Avenue between 24th and 25th Streets. The commission Authorized the city manager to advertise for bids on the project as soon as specifications are completed.

In further action, the city raised the reward for information leading to the arrest of arsonists from $100 to $250, to receive a 2 percent advantage on the city's fire insurance key rate.

The commission voted to accept the high bid of IBM Corporation of Amarillo for the purchase of an IBM electric typewriter. The bid was $468.00. York said the IBM bid best suited the needs of the city.

Joel Hefly was given a permit to keep two horses on a lot in the 100 block of west 4th Avenue. The permit is subject to cancellation should the two horses prove to be a public health hazard or nuisance. City health inspector, W. C. Stallings wrote the commission that no houses are close enough to the lot to render the horses a health hazard. The court stipulated that the permit is good for one year after its issuance.

The commission also authorized payment of wages at $2 per hour for 18 hours of work for each of the three tax equalization board members.

The July 22 meeting was the last for city manager Bill York who is resigning at the end of the month to take a similar position with the city of Edinburg.

The commission complimented York on the good work he had done for the city during his tenure.

Twice Weekly Trash Collection Schedule Aids City Cleanliness

Installation of the Dempster-Dumpster trash collection system in Canyon has enabled the city to improve its downtown business area trash collection to twice weekly, according to Bill York, city manager.

The new trash collection system involves the use of large metal trash containers situated strategically throughout the city behind certain businesses with a high trash load.

The businesses fill the containers with their trash and the city picks the entire container up with a special truck and hoist. The container is carried to the city dump north of Canyon where the trash is dumped. The container is then returned to its position in town.

The system has improved downtown trash collection by keeping most of the trash within the closed container instead of in an open wire bin as before.

Use of the system enabled the city to free one of its regular trash "packer" type trucks for residential collection, according to York. The city now urges that residents do not burn their trash.

The burning of trash presents a serious fire hazard and the smoke and odor created by the burning trash are offensive to other residents, York said.

The city also asks that residents do not place such things as weeds, dirt and tree trimmings in the trash barrels as such materials can not be picked up by the packer trucks. Weeds, bulky trash and tree trimmings should be placed in a pile or in a container by the regular trash container for collection by the city with a flatbed truck, York said.

Anyone having problems with trash collection and removal, is asked to come by the city office at 1600 4th Avenue or call at OL 5-2593.

Four Start Goldwater Plan Here

Four Canyon men are seeking a "Canyon branch" of the "Millions of Americans for Goldwater" plan initiated recently in Amarillo and headed by J. Ernest Stroud.

The four met Wednesday morning to plan a program of "personal contact" in the Canyon area, seeking support and contributions to the "Millions" program.

They are Dale Williams, Cecil Simms, B. E. McCormick, and Clark Jarnagin.

McCormick said the First National Bank in Canyon will handle the funds in Canyon.

Idea of the Stroud plan is that interested citizens may deposit money for the support of Goldwater for the presidential nomination. The funds deposited will go only for the Arizona Senator's campaign, should he secure the nomination. That failing, the money will remain to the depositor's credit in the bank.

Pioneer Canyon Woman Recalls Cattle Baron

"He talked quite a bit to people he knew and when he got mad he talked a lot." This is a description of Colonel Charles Goodnight, the first rancher in the Texas Panhandle, by a Cnayon woman whose husband was reared by the cattle Baron pioneer.

She is Mrs. W. C. Hubbard, widow of "Cleo" Hubbard, ward of Goodnight and later manager of his ranch at Goodnight, Texas.

"Cleo was really small when he was taken in by Goodnight. His mother came to the Goodnight Ranch as the housekeeper. She stayed on there until after Cleo and I were married in 1925 and then she came to live with us.

"Cleo followed Goodnight where ever he went. Before he was big enough to ride a horse by himself, Goodnight would put him up behind on his horse and ride the ranch. Cleo went to the Goodnight Ranch when he was just a baby of less than a year. He and his mother came to the ranch about 1905.

"Colonel Goodnight sort of took Cleo under his wing and taught him what he knew about cattle and ranching. An old man like that, you wouldn't think would be good with children, but he was really good to Cleo.

"He worked as a hand while he was growing up. After he was old enough and after Goodnight sold the ranch to MacAlister about 1921, Cleo became the ranch manager.

"When we married, Cleo was living at the headquarters or Big House, as we called it. We stayed there 6 months before we moved into the foreman's place away from the Big House.

"After Goodnight remarried in 1927, he would come up to the house and visit with us. His new wife Corrine, took really good care of him. He was over 90 at the time. He was quite old and he couldn't be active at the time.

"Goodnight would get in the car with Cleo and go look at the ranch. Often he would give Cleo good advise on the cattle.

"I've got a letter from Aunt Mary, the first Mrs. Goodnight, before they were married. She was teaching school in Weatherford at the time. She was a Dyer. They were married away back in the 1860's. They were married here in Texas before they went to Colorado.

"Living on the ranch in the early 20s and 30s was a good life. If I could manage, I would go back to the place yet. We have 2400 acres right in the heart of the Hedgecoke Ranch. That was Goodnight's doings.

"He sold that 2400 acres to the Vineyard brothers but there came a few hard years and the brothers lost the ranch back to Goodnight. He had to take it back.

"Goodnight deeded half the ranch to Cleo in 1926 and gave the other half to Corrine in 1927. Cleo bought her half about 1932.

"Corrine was a very pleasant person. I don't know what her education was but she was well bred. After Goodnight died, she went to work for the telegraph company in Marquette, Michigan. She is still with them last I heard.

"I remember the last time Mr. Goodnight got up on a horse. Cleo saddled up Old Buttons, put Mr. Goodnight on him and took him out in the pasture to take his picture. I still have that picture. The saddle is on display in the museum now. Goodnight gave it to me later and I gave it to the museum for safe keeping.

"A most interesting thing on the ranch is when they would bring in the buffalo from the range and pen them up to butcher the fat ones. They fed them out and sold the meat to the people who wanted the novelty of it. They sure had to build those corrals high though.

"A buffalo could jump over the moon. I've seen a six weeks old buffalo calf go straight through a 2 X 4 corral fence. Of all that big herd down there--it did go up as high as 300--they have one buffalo left. They were plenty mean to handle. They're a lot more dangerous than cattle.

"My brother was feeding the buffalo in the pen one morning, when he happened to ride between a buffalo calf and its mother. She charged him of course. He had his pistol with him and pointed it at the ground in front of the charging cow to stop her rush. He meant to snoot in the ground to turn her, but she lowered her head at the last moment and the bullet hit her in the back of the head and killed her on the spot. The manager of the ranch thought it was funny that he had picked a fat buffalo cow to kill.

"My brother said he didn't have the time to see if she was fat or not. He just wanted to get out of her way!

"Mr. Goodnight had a gun that he hunted buffalo with. It was a 45-70, I think. It had an inscription on it that always stayed with me. The inscription read, 'Seek you first, the kingdom of God and his righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you'. He kept that gun hanging on the horns over the fireplace in his office. He had the men hang horns all over the house to hang guns on." Mrs. Hubbard said.

In one of Mrs. Hubbard's scrapbooks are several pictures of Goodnight and his ranch in the canyon. Under one of the pictures of Goodnight and his second wife, Corrine, is the story of their meeting and marriage. The story is a reflection on the independent and forceful life the cattle pioneer led up to the time of his death. Miss Corrine Goodnight (no relation to Colonel Goodnight) of Butte Montana, having read an account of Colonel Goodnight, wrote to him because of the similarity of names. After a brief correspondence and a visit by Corrine, they married in Clarendon on the Colonel's ninty first birthday, March 5, 1927.

Mrs. W. C. Hubbard recalls what it was like as a newly-wed to live on the Goodnight Ranch in the early 1920s and 1930s with her husband "Cleo" Hubbard, manager of the ranch. Cleo was reared by Goodnight from a baby until he was old enough to take over the management of the ranch.

CINDY GRUNER

by Dr. J. A. Hill

Hilltop Views

Last week's article about Canyon and the College closed on a note of victory and may have left the impression on some that there was no cause for anxiety in the years ahead--that the road forward was clear.

That such was not the case will appear too plain in today's article. Even in the prosperious days of the 1920s there were forewarnings of trouble. For example, the South Plains had furnished the college a majority of its students prior to the late twenties. In 1923 the legislature created Texas Technological College, which opened in 1925, with authority to offer a curriculum as wide as the whole field of human knowledge, including the education of teachers. It made tremendous appeal for students and quickly reduced our patronage in the South Plains area.

Before that decade closed Amarillo Junior College was established, Eastern New Mexico College (now university) opened, and the College at Goodwell, Oklahoma, became a senior institution. Prior to this time West Texas State had little or no competition. Now it piled up.

In the early thirties the Texas Legislature imposed an out-of-state tuition which cut off an appreciable number of students from adjoining states. The same legislature changed the formula for making appropriations toall state institutions of higher learning, requiring that each school make its budget requests upon the basis of the number of student credits. This broadened and intensified each institution's campaign for students and sent new competition for West Texas State from down state colleges.

But these troubles were small by comparison with others that characterized the 1930s. A few of us are old enough to remember the drought and depression. Those who cannot remember these twin terrors will never know their devastating effect. I shall not undertake to describe it here. Suffice to say that throughout this West Texas area hundreds of farmers lost their homesteads, some moving to other parts of the country, others accepting bread and meat employment in towns and cities where the national government created relief jobs. Farms that now sell from $100 to $500 and more per acre could be bought on credit for $15 or less.

Canyon, like most other communities had many vacant business and residence houses. Hundreds of ambitious young people could not make it to college and more than half of those who did come had to have financial help. Many students lived in co-operatives and brought meat, eggs, canned goods and other foods from home. The 30 to 40 men students on college farm lived co-operatively on as little as $5 per month cash. Faculty salaries and maintenance were cut to the bone.

To climax this story of trial and tribulations in the 1930s certain members of the legislature and the State Board of Education sponsored a movement to greatly reduce the services and functions of the state colleges, even to the extent of abolishing a few of them, including West Texas State. This movement was widely heralded and publicized throughout Texas. One of the reasons given was that Texas had too many colleges--especially teachers colleges.

Bills based on this concept were introduced in the legislature and a nasty fight ensued. While the attempt failed it hurt higher education in Texas, especially West Texas State. Our appropriation was cut a little below the middle, a reduction that took years to overcome. Financial support was already far below what it should have been.

We came out of that fight with "bloody but unbowed heads." The people of Northwest Texas did not want their only state college impaired and some of them said so in no uncertain terms. This feeling on the part of the public in this area was abundantly demonstrated by the fact that in the very heat of the battle to destroy the college (1932--33) The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society was erecting the first museum building ever erected on a college or university campus in Texas.

Miss Cindy Gruner was winner of the overall first place ribbon in the Randall County 4-H Dress Revue held last Friday night at the First Presbyterian Church in Canyon.

Miss Gruner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Gruner, will represent Randall County in the District I Dress Revue to be held at the Holiday Vic Mon, west, in Amarillo tomorrow afternoon, Friday. The District Revue will be open to the public beginning at 2 p.m.

She will be competing with other senior division winners from 17 counties for the district title. Four winners from District I will be selected to attend the State 4-H Dress Revue which is held during the opening week of the State Fair of Texas in Dallas each year. To compete for the district title, the 4-H member must be 14 years of age and a member of 4-H for at least 3 years.

Leta Cranmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Cranmer, was the junior division winner at the Randall County Revue. She will model on the District Revue program but will not be entered in competition for the district title.

"Showers of Fashion" was the theme for the annual revue sponsored by the Randall County Home Demonstration Council. Mrs. Lewis Tucek is the general chairman of the council. Mrs. Ray Metcalf serves as 4-H Club chairman. Decorations and entertainment for the program Friday evening were directed by Mrs. Ralph Ruthart.

Miss Sally Ann Fields, home demonstration agent, presented ribbons to 36 girls on the program. Blue ribbons were awarded to Kathy Gist, Linda Hales, Charlotte Dietz, Jackie Miller, Cathie Deeten, Martha Sykes, Mary Cummins, Gail Thompson, Rhonda Johnson, Roxie Knox, Sharon Allen, Connie Brazzil, Annette Robinson, Leta Cranmer, and Cindy Gruner.

Red ribbons were presented by Miss Fields to Sharon Hinders, Betty Pryor, Marsha Hager, Sharon Triplett, Marjie Detten, Diana Hill, Melinda Black, Robbie Weldert, Glenda Hollenstein, Debbie Gordon, Nicola Johnson, Jo Johnston, Susan Lindeman, Cindy Kuhlman, Cheryl Shaeffer, Barbara Anderson, Sarah Dorsey, Mary Richey, Sheri Henry, Linda Hicks, and Judy Sykes.

Miss Lucy Tucek served as the mistress of ceremonies and narrated the revue program. The 4-H motto and pledge were given by Jo Johnston and Kathy Gist.

Special entertainment on the program was provided by Annette and Marilyn Robinson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Robinson of south Amarillo.

Music for the revue program was presented by Mrs. M. T. Maddux. Gary Tucek served as page for the program. A reception followed the event.

Garments and records were judged last Wednesday morning by home demonstration agents, Mrs. Ruth Hughey of Claude and Miss Linda Webb of Channing.

4-H Records are due in August for the selection of the County Award that is presented in December, according to Miss Fields.

Dr. Tolliver To Speak At International Meet

A West Texas State University professor, Dr. Crannell Tolliver, will speak at the International Conference on General Semantics in New York City August 13-16.

DR. CRANNELL TOLLIVER

Dr. Tolliver, head of the WT speech department, will present a paper before the group on research he conducted last summer in San Quentin Prison in California. His paper is on "The Study of Semantics as a Means of Rehabilitation for Those With Anti-Social Reactions."

The conference at New York University, sponsored by the International Society for General Semantics, will draw educators and delegates from throughout the world. Papers will be presented in English, French, Italian, Spanish, German and Russian. Interpreters will translate the talks simultaneously as they are given.

Papers for the conference are selected by topic, anonymously, and the author is notified of his selection after a board of review selects the papers, Dr. Tolliver said.

His research was conducted last summer in San Quentin through a grant awarded by West Texas State through funds appropriated by the State of Texas.

Dr. Tolliver visited classes being taught in semantics in San Quentin with the purpose of investigating the causes of semantic language disturbances blocking successful communication in interpersonal relationships. He said that he was able to study the methods of therapy for possible anti-social reactions resulting from such relationships.

Dr. Tolliver said the classes in semantics are available to prisoners in San Quentin, and that he met with the classes, gave some lectures to prisoners, led discussion groups, interviewed prisoners personally, and observed all therapeutic teaching techniques used in the prison classes.

Dr. and Mrs. Tolliver last attended one of the conferences of the International Society for General Semantics in Mexico City in 1958.

Theme of this year's conference in New York will be "International Communication: Its Problems and Its Opportunities."

Dr. and Mrs. Tolliver will fly to New York, stopping off enroute in Detroit, where they will be met by friends from Saginaw, Mich., where the Tollivers lived for 16 years. They will visit in Saginaw before going on to New York.

While in New York, the Tollivers will visit tourist attractions, including a number of Broadway plays. They also plan a three-day trip through Connecticut, where they will attend summer theatre productions, including a Shakespearean festival in Stratford, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Ocie G. Chism visited recently in St. Louis, Missouri with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pummill.

Celinda Chism, daughter of the Chisms, visited several weeks with the Pummill family and returned to Canyon with her parents.

Charles Pummill is visiting with the Chism family this week. He is a nephew of the Ocie Chisms.

Mrs. Olive Vandruff Bugbee of Clarendon and Dr. Emilio Caballero, head of the art department at West Texas State University, look over one of Mrs. Bugbee's paintings in the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum. Mrs. Bugbee will teach two art classes in painting during the fall semester at WT.

Olive Vandruff Bugbee ToTeach Painting Here

One of the Southwest's best-known artists, Olive Vandruff Bugbee of Clarendon, will teach two classes in painting during the fall semester at West Texas State College. Dr. Emilio Caballero, head of the art department, has announced.

Mrs. Bugbee will teach classes on Monday and Wednesday nights, and interested students may find an excellent opportunity "to develop techniques under a teacher of understanding and sensitivity," Dr. Caballero said.

An artist who works in all media, Mrs. Bugbee has exhibited her works in such places as Chicago and Miami Beach, and widely in Texas cities including Houston, San Antonio, Bandera, Boerne, Wellington, and in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon. Four of her paintings are in the permanent collection of the museum here. She exhibits regularly with the Coppini Academy's gallery in San Antonio and its touring exhibitions. Many of her works are hung in public buildings throughtout the state and collections of her paintings are owned by individuals.

Among her more than 500 paintings are a series of six for the Petroleum Club in San Antonio, and murals for homes and public buildings in Houston, Kerrville, Hunt, San Antonio, and Corpus Christi. She has done portraits of prize bulls, registered horses, and pets.

"My chief interest is in painting birds and animals in usual settings," Mrs. Bugbee said. "I also like to paint flowers in unusual settings, and I will do people if there is a special reason. I also like to do old houses and anything historical or documentary, or something as fleeting as a puff of clouds."

One writer said of Mrs. Bugbee's paintings that "they are sentimental and realistic without being stilted or sticky."

Mrs. Bugbee often exhibited with her famed husband, the late Harold Bugbee.

Billy Cawthon Out Of Hospital

Billy D. Cawthon returned home last Saturday afternoon after two weeks in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo where he underwent spinal surgery.

Cawthon will be confined to his home at 2309 North 3rd Avenue for several weeks. He had a similar operation on his spine four years ago. The recent operation was the result of a break in the fusion of the old operation. The break occurred while he was attempting to lift a heavy object on the job in March of 1963.

He was employed as the meat market manager of Taylor and Son Grocery. Mrs. Cawthon is currently employed as a cashier at the store.

Becky, George, and Roy Neil Byrd of Valentine, Nebraska visited last week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Black and Mr. and Mrs. roy N. Byrd of Happy.

C. W. Haddock visited last week with his son, Don Haddock, and family in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bosley for several days recently has been Bob Lyon of LaMont, California.

The Cecil Bosleys and guest, Bob Lyon, were supper guests at their son's home in Hereford last week. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bosley were hosts for the supper. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bosley of Amarillo.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

The four cent per gallon federal gasoline tax refund should now be claimed. This is for gasoline used on the farm for farming purposes for the 12 month period ending June 30, 1963. Those who made a claim last year should have received a claim form in the mail from the Internal Revenue Service. We have a few extra cards in the office that might be used.

A damaging swath of hail cut a big area of choice crops to ribbons on Saturday night, July 13. This area was just north of Happy. Some cotton was 100% destroyed and the grain sorghum was severely damaged. The farmers there were faced with a choice of replanting a crop that had reached the boot stage or taking a chance on the old stand recovering in time to make grain.

Research entomologists have made extensive surveys which indicate that a serious midge infestation in grain sorghum is very probable this season. Midge have been found in most of the counties of the Panhandle.

The adult midge is a small fragile, orange colored, grat-like insect about 1/12 inch long. The first generation of midge usually develops in the seed heads of Johnson-grass. The female deposits eggs in the flowers of the grain sorghum head soon after it appears from the boot.

Timing of insecticide applications is the most important factor in midge control. Chemical control is aimed at the destruction of the adult midge before egg laying begins. Treatment should be made as soon as 90 per cent of the heads have emerged from the boot, but never later than three days after emergence. There is currently no accurate ways of predicting a midge infestation. Previous work has shown that it is not usually profitable to apply chemicals after the midge are found within the sorghum fields to be treated.

Endrin, Toxaphene, and Sevin have given good control when applied at the right time.

Many fields in the south plains have been damaged severely by midge in past years. Laboratory specimens from Randall County have indicated midge damage the past two years in Randall County. The yields in fields on the south plains of Texas have been reduced by as much as 30%.

Randall County farmers should take all precautions and plan to spray if the infestation develops as it now appears.

Walton Bagley visited several days last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Bagley. He is a student at North Texas University in Denton.

Walton will attend a five week training camp for Reserve Officer Training Corps members in Big Spring before the fall session resumes.

Visiting with the W. K. Bagley family for two weeks recently was her sister, Mrs. G. C. Henderson, of Norwalk, California.

Ma Honored At Farewell

A farewell supper, honoring Dr. and Mrs. James Ma, was held in the backyard of the O. J. Lehman home last week.

The Ma family left last Saturday for San Jose, California where he will be associated with the business school of San Jose State College this fall.

The barbecued chicken supper was served to members of the faculty, in the business school, at West Texas State University. Ma has been associated with the faculty at West Texas State for two years.

Guests attending included Bob Chester, W. F. Haggard, Jess Rhodes, Durwood Henderson, Eldon Lehman of Amarillo, and Prem Bhagot, graduate student at the University from India. Other guests were Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Callarman, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Chism, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Cox of Amarillo, Mrs. Gwen Moore, the honored couple and his mother, Mrs. Ma.

Mrs. Guy Harrison of Gladewater spent several weeks visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bailey, this summer.

Mrs. Harrison returned to her home in Gladewater last week. She had been working on her Maters Degree at West Texas State University during the first summer session.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Callarman recently was his cousin, Mrs. Ivan Austin, that he had not seen since he was six years old.

Mrs. Austin and her husband were guests in the Callarman home for several days. They live in Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Horace Bible recently was their granddaughter, Dywan Gwyn, of Wildorado.

Mrs. Billy Black returned from a trip to California recently. While in the western state she visited with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Smith in Santa Anna, California and Mr. and Mrs. James LeCour in North Ridge, California.

Visiting with Mrs. Alfred Bellah last week was her grandson, Dick Bellah, of Phoenix, Arizona. He also visited with a number of other relatives in Canyon.

Mrs. C. E. Ross of Wichita Falls was a guest of her niece, Mrs. Alfred Bellah, last week.

Nicky Barnard of Lubbock visited with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Barnard, several days last week.

Geologists Say Canyon Sits On Clay Deposits

Jim Conner, on the left, a graduate geologist from West Texas University, knocks a soil sample from a digger on the R. A. Neblett place west of Canyon. Conners is checking soil levels west of Canyon in search of certain clay deposits suitable for ceramic brick making. Looking on is Tom West, an employee of Hereford Tile and Brick Company.

Canyon is sitting on vast deposits of a special kind of "plastic" clay, potentially valuable in the manufacture of ceramic bricks, according to Tom Dacus, vice-president and general manager of the Hereford Tile and Brick Company.

J. T. Hickman is president of the company.

Canyon is in the center of a large ice-age lake bed, the bottom of which is laid over with heavy deposits of clays, according to Jack Hughes, head of the geology department at West Texas University.

Hereford Tile and Brick Company has gotten permission to prospect on parts of the R.A. Neblett and Donnell places west of Canyon. Deposits of the "highly plastic clays" have been located in these areas, according to Dacus.

"Presently we are doing some prospecting of the deposits by drilling log holes to get samples of the soils in the areas.

"We have a geology student from West Texas University working on the logging samples. We also are getting ready to start an excavation pit to extract some of the clay. It will be processed at the plant in Hereford," Dacus said.

"Lake basins throughout this region have accumulated extensive deposits of clays, probably from wind blown dust which gets caught in the lake waters and settles to the bottom of the lake as clay," Hughes said.

Hereford Tile and Brick Company has been getting its brick clays from deposits north of Vega. The clays there produce a red brick, Dacus said. The company has also been getting brick clay from a deposit northwest of Hereford about 10 miles, he said. "This is a light color clay," he added.

"The Canyon clay is a light, plastic clay that is both greasy and sticky. We'll add some non-plastic material to it so we can get it milled and then we'll process it at the plant. The clay will produce a fine, light colored brick after firing," Dacus said.

"Hereford Tile and Brick Company was formed about five years ago by James Witherspoon of Hereford because of his interest in developing industry at Hereford.

"The company has grown slowly until the first of this year when we started on a program of research and improvement of the plant facilities. The company plans to serve an area within a 150 to 200 mile radius of Hereford," Dacus said.

Dacus has had some 18 years of experience in the ceramic tile and brick business, most of it with the Acme Brick Company of Amarillo. He came to Hereford Tile and Brick Company in September of 1962, he said.

"The company is also served by one of the finest ceramic engineers in the country. This is Mr. Robert Anwyl, who is the production supervisor for the company and heads the company research program," Dacus said.

Cemetery Improvements Listed At Lions Club

History of the Dreamland Cemetery Association and some of its accomplishments were outlined two members of the board and the association's executive director at a meeting of Canyon Lions Club Wednesday of last week.

Jerry LaGrone, executive director, gave a progress report on the 6-year-old association. He noted some of the difficulties in operating the cemetery in the years before the association was formed.

He said the cemetery now is operated under a perpetual care plan with about $31,000 in a trust fund for this purpose.

LaGrone noted that only about a third of the persons with relatives buried in Dreamland before the association was formed have paid into the perpetual care fund.

He said that if participation should approach 100 percent there would be in the neighborhood of $100,000 in the fund.

Since 1957, the cemetery has employed a full time care taker. Some equipment has been purchased. An irrigation system with three wells has been installed.

Some streets have been paved. A set of chimes has been installed. Tool houses have been built. The chimes and buildings have been financed by Mrs. Ed Harrell.

The VFW installed a flag pole. The cemetery now has a tractor and mowing equipment.

Probably the most important improvement is perpetual care. All the cemetery now is receiving attention. From an uncharted, unsightly place it has become one of the beauty spots of the community.

Mrs. R. A. Neblett, president of the association, followed LaGrone on the program. She told of efforts now being made to improve the cemetery even further.

She noted that many flowers and shrubs have been donated by the Canyon Garden Club.

Bernard Warren, board member, told the Lions about earlier days of the cemetery when it was maintained by the county. He said that property records at that time were particularly worrisome to those attempting to operate the cemetery.

A complete set of records now are kept at LaGrone Funeral Chapel, he said.

The cemetery was deeded to the association 6 years ago. LaGrone says a minimum of $30,000 in savings has been realized by the taxpayers as a result of this move.

Property now being sold at the cemetery is sold with a perpetual care provision.

Canyon scored two runs in the first inning. Lynn Salmon got a single to right center field. He went to second on a shortstop error. Albracht walked. Then Tommy Tucker drove in Salmon and Johnny Ashley drove in Albracht.

In the first inning David Huckstert hit a homer on empty bases for Hereford. The other two Hereford scores came in the second.

Prairie Wildlife

HUNTING, FISHING AND CONSERVATION

The Randall County Sportsmans Club will hold a big fish-orama and fish fry Sunday afternoon and night at Buffalo Lake on the east side.

All club members are welcome to the fry. Bring along any guests you might want. The club will soon get started on a membership program as the old memberships expire at the end of August, current officers also retire.

Bob Busteed will put on a show of his fine Brittany spaniels before the fry gets started. That will be a show worth watching.

The fish fry will take place on the east side of the Lake across from the concessions buildings and down the lake a little. Signs will be posted leading the folks to the fry. The area should be just south of where F. M. 1714 intersects with the lake from Canyon.

It won't be too long before thoughts of the Fall hunting start invading sportsmen's minds. Dove, quail, turkey, deer, elk and even the new sheep hunting will soon occupy sportmen's thoughts.

If anyone has a favorite hunting subject he would like a program on at the upcoming Sportsman's Club meetings, he should voice his ideas soon.

The game and fish commission and the State Parks Board come to an official close this month at the hands of the Texas Legislature. The new commission will be the Parks and Wildlife Commission of three men (soon to be announced) and three executive directors.

One director will head up the whole shooting match and the other two will be his assistants in charge of the parks on one hand and the wildlife on the other.

Despite comments to the contrary, people close to the lion's mouth in Austin do not feel that there will be any great shake up in either department because of the reorganization.

The top executives in each department probably will be shifted around but the vast majority of employees will remain where they are.

Prairie Wildlife hopes the change will be for the better in both departments.

Let's go fishing!

Babe Ruth Tourney Swept By Dumas 9

by GEORGE DE SCHWEINITZ

Dumas, sweeping through the District 2 Babe Ruth League Tournament last week, won the tourney without a loss. This team, representative of the high level of athletic excellence at Dumas in late years, proved the class of the tournament as it downed a fighting Pampa Number Two just before the championship game. Pampa Number One had also lost a close contest to Dumas, 7-5, the day before.

In the final game, Dumas went with Sober, who pitched well against repeated threats from a hard-hitting Pampa team. Though often shaky, Sober rode out the storms and brought the Dumas team home with a rested front-line pitching staff for the Texas State Meet in San Antonio.

The admissions collected through the help and organization of young Canyon business men, headed by Bill Davis, not only defrayed the expenses of the tournament in Canyon, but sent the winners to San Antonio with a healthy check to tide them over down there. The Lackland Air Force Base will feed and house the team, the latter free, the former at very small expense.

More money was cleared through the good offices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which manned the concessions stand for three out of the five days, and through the assistance of mothers from Umbarger and the Cardinal team. The lion's share of the profits from these sales during the week of tournament play, go to the Babe Ruth League.

Canyon umpiring during the tournament was well managed by Roscoe Richardson, who called on a team of Mack Winter, Duane Guy, and Orville Hicks. Bubba Hillman, Palo Duro High School coach, who took over the direction of the tournament, also filled in as umpire when needed. His presence, as well as the usual fine cooperative effort of local Babe Ruth League officials, headed by Dr. Dudley Moore, Jr., saw Canyon hold its first District competition without a muff. Dr. C. C. Callarman's Protest Committee handled all differences with dispatch. The result was a compliment from an outsider to the effect that he thought the tournament was a tribute to Canyon and its staff of planners.

Within a week or two, a meeting of all parents of players and the interested public and present Babe Ruth League personnel will be held. At that time elections for offices will be held and points of organization and goals will be discussed. After six years, the program has gotten so large that long-run planning is needed. The future of summer recreation of this kind in this community is a matter that the community as a whole can no longer afford to neglect.

Sportsmanship trophies and awards will be made for 1962 and 1963.

Ferrin Construction Built Apartment Building

Bob Ferrin Construction Company of 2106 Western in Amarillo has done all the construction for the new two story University Apartments at 2500 West Eighth Avenue in Canyon.

The Bob Ferrin Construction Company is noted in the Texas Panhandle for its high quality homes, many of which are in the $30,000 to $125,000 cost range.

The company started construction on the luxury University Apartments June 17 and was finished July 23. The apartments are a brick veneer using Crowe-Gulde Cement Company Color-Crest bricks. They have a built-up roof with insualtion batting fill.

Ferrin had a finished wood panel sheetrock interior installed in the apartments.

Each apartment has built-in kitchen appliances, including oven, range and refrigerator.

Ferrin Construction Company started the apartment job by having the foundation of one side of the 20-unit apartment poured and then moved the framing crew in on that side while the foundation crew poured the foundation on the other side of the apartment.

The built up roof and windows were put on finishing the building in a dry-in stage and then the interior work was completed.

Heavy rockwool and fiberglass-insulation was used between the staggered stud walls and between the ceilings and roof areas to insulate each apartment.

The ceilings were all sheetrocked with some of the color mixed right in with the texture materials. All the woodwork has a wiped stain finish.

Included in the apartments are central background music systems and a central antenna with outlets in each apartment. A utility wash room is also provided for the apartment users. There are two washing machines and one dryer.

Parking facilities in the front of the apartments will accommodate up to 30 cars.

Each downstairs apartment unit has both back and front doors, while the upstairs units have only the front door which opens directly onto a cement balcony with decorative iron railings. The balconies are made of lightweight concrete.

Evaporative coolers are installed in each apartment.

Bob Ferrin Construction Company of Amarillo started building better residences in Amarillo some 4 years ago.

The company custom builds private residences, most of which are brick veneers with wood shingle roofs. Many of the Ferrin built homes are two-story. The company builds houses that cost from $20,000 to $125,000.

Bob Ferrin Company builds homes in other areas also. They have jobs going in Pampa, Canyon, Hereford, Dalhart and have built homes at Lake Stockton.

Bob Ferrin has been in the building trade for 6 years. He is owner and president of the Bob Ferrin Construction Company.

George Ficke is production supervisor and coordinator for the company, overseeing all the construction.
